

COMMUNITY SURVEY

Public participation is critical to the comprehensive planning process and the community surveys conducted in each of the Planning Area Townships are key elements. In addition to gaining a general understanding of respondent opinions and concerns, the survey served to inform the community of the planning process and many of the issues confronting the Planning Area. The survey results are incorporated into the Comprehensive Plan and are used as one of many factors for the formulation of community goals and objectives. In Damascus Township, surveys were mailed to resident and nonresident landowners, and in Manchester Township and Oregon Township surveys were mailed to the per capita tax payer list. News releases also announced that the surveys were available from local officials and on the Internet.

A random sample survey with higher return rates would have resulted in a better cross section of opinions, but would have precluded many interested residents from participating. In other words, it is important to remember that the survey results simply represent the opinions of those who were interested and responded to the survey. To achieve a definitive representation of resident opinions (i.e., a high confidence rate of survey results) requires a scientific survey using a relatively small random sample with a high return rate. This is typically achieved by multiple mailings, tracking each survey, and follow-up phone calls. A high return rate on the random sample ensures that the full range of opinions are assessed.
