This is an event that brings all the ladies from two churches; Damascus Manor UMC and Abrahamsville UMC, along with friends from other denominations to bake a vast array of homemade cookies that are then sold by the pound. The great thing is that the customer picks what they want and the cookies are packaged in a nice bakery box. Each box of homemade choices are then weighed, as it is cookies by the pound, and the customer now has a yummy box of joy to take home and just in time for Valentines Day. By the way we sell these yummys for only $5.00 per pound and where can you beat that price? And where do you buy these cookie you ask? The Dime Bank in Damascus is our staging area. The Dime Bank has long been a most cooperative establishment supporting community events. Our church event sets up in the lobby on Friday, February 10th with sale hours 9:00am to 6:00pm and on Saturday, February 11th sale hours 9:00am to 12:00pm noon. The proceeds benefit the Damascus Charge, mission projects. Costs can get pretty high traveling to as many places as our volunteer in mission (VIM) have been. Over the many years that VIM has been in existence we have helped people in disaster relief in Texas, Georgia, Tennessee, New Jersey, Maryland, Alabama, and Pennsylvania. Our cookie sales help to defray some of our traveling costs. So we reach out to the community to seek out our cookies for a cause, cause it is a great deal and helps ultimately to return families to their homes after natural disasters strike. We accept monetary donations as well and if anyone is interested in our organization, may want to participate and just would like to learn more about our mission work, call Jeff Dexter at 570-729-7270.
